Could you, in just a few minutes or less, relay every piece of information needed for someone else to step in and care for you or your loved one in an emergency situation? We all NEED a back-up plan, most especially if we're alone or if we're a caregiver for someone. Creating a checklist of legal, practical and executional items to have prepared can make an emergency a difficult situation vs. a crisis! Learning how to walk through the difficult conversations that may need to happen to create your “PLAN B” is also very valuable. While uncomfortable to consider, this preparation will make all the difference in successfully handling an emergency situation. We'll provide a checklist for success!
